Winifred Bird

Winifred Bird is an environmental journalist. Her reporting from three continents on wildlife, agriculture, environmental health, and climate change appeared in publication including Yale Environment 360, Environmental Health Perspectives, npr.org, Science, and the Japan Times. She received the Society of Environmental Journalists Award for the best feature story for her investigation of forest management following the Fukushima nuclear disaster.

Thursday, April 9th
5:30-6:30 pm
Jacobs Science Bldg 221